"If women would pay more attention to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would observe results they would find that the doctors' prescriptions do not perform the many cures they are given credit for.

"In consulting with my druggist he advised McElree's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and so I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life opened up to me with restored health, and it only took three months to cure me."

Wine of Cardui is a regulator of the menstrual functions and is a most astonishing tonic for women. It cures scanty, suppressed, too frequent, irregular and painful menstruation, falling of the womb, whites and flooding. It is helpful when approaching womanhood, during pregnancy, after childbirth and in change of life. It frequently brings a dear baby to homes that have been barren for years. All druggists have $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

INTENTIONS THAT COUNT.

Only Those Put Into Practice Amount to Anything.

The paving of the road to a very uncomfortable place is said to be composed of good intentions. Nowhere else has this material been tried for paving, though it is plentiful enough for almost any purpose. We all know people whose houses burn when they are "just going to" insure, who lose a cow or a horse when they are "just going to" mend the fence or close the gate, who are "just going to" buy stock when it goes up like a rocket, who are "just going to" pay a note when it goes to protest, who are "just going to" help a neighbor when he dies, who are "just going to" send some flowers to a sick friend when it proves too late. In fact, they are "just going to" do things all their lives, but never get them started.

"To be always intending to live a new life, but never to find time to set about it," says Tillotson, "is as if a man should put off eating and drinking until he is starved to death."

Under every clock in a factory at Cleveland, O., is the motto, "Do it now!" Such a motto, lived up to by every one, would spare the world much trouble. It would add thousands of good deeds to daily happenings, save many firms from bankruptcy through bad debts, paint hundreds of pictures only dreamed of, write books without number and straighten out half the tangles of our complicated social life. The habit of putting off disagreeable duties is responsible for much needless unhappiness, for these bugbears weigh on the mind and prevent the satisfied content that comes from duty well performed. Most tasks promptly undertaken prove less difficult than we anticipated, and the joy of accomplishment often compensates for any hardship experienced.

Don't get to be known for unfulfilled good intentions. Good intentions carried out become the good deeds that make men useful, loved and famous. Doing things rather than just planning them makes all the difference between success and failure.—Success.

SCIENCE NOTES.

A body weighing one pound on earth would weigh twenty-seven and a half pounds upon the sun.

The highest mountain in the moon is at least 35,000 feet in height; that is 6,000 feet higher than Mount Everest.

Vanadium is a rare metal which oxidizes in air with great difficulty, melts at 2,000 degrees and becomes red hot in hydrogen.

Perfectly transparent bodies are only visible by virtue of nonuniform illumination, and in uniform illumination they become absolutely invisible.

A transit of Venus occurs only four times in 283 years. It is most important to astronomers because it gives them an opportunity of measuring the distance of the earth from the sun.

The sun and the earth are both practically spherical in shape, and the earth is evidently only a small, cooled off or frozen sun. The sun has a shell of glowing metallic clouds; the earth has a shell of solid opaque rocks and metals.

A Hard Hearted People.

Filial piety finds no place in Tibetan character. It is no uncommon thing for a son to turn his father, when too old for work, out of doors and to leave him to perish in the cold. The superstition that the souls of the dead can, if they will, haunt the living drives their hardened natures to gain by the exercise of cruelty the promise of the dying that they will not return to earth.

As death approaches the dying person is asked, "Will you come back or will you not?" If he replies that he will, they pull a leather bag over his head and smother him; if he says he will not, he is allowed to die in peace. —Edinburgh Review.

A Very Ancient Snake.

The African cobra ranges from Egypt to the Cape of Good Hope. That it was known in northern Africa thousands of years ago is shown by its familiar appearance in Egyptian hieroglyphics. Near Cape Colony it is almost exterminated, and its destruction is much promoted by that curious and valued long legged hawk known as the secretary bird. Six or seven species of cobra have been distinguished, three of which belong to the Indian region.

Not Yet Ripe.

The physicians were holding a consultation beside the cot of the man supposed to have appendicitis concealed about his person.

"I believe," said one of the surgeons, "that we should wait and let him get stronger before cutting into him."

Before the other prospective operators could reply the patient turned his head and remarked feebly:

CHINESE MAGIC LANTERNS.

How Their Instruments Differ From Those In Use In This Country.

The magic lantern, like porcelain, gunpowder and printing, may have been an invention of the Chinese. For more than twenty centuries it has been a staple amusement in the Celestial empire and has been developed into many forms unknown to the occident. The Middle Kingdom, which has been well termed Topsy Turvy Land, uses the magic lantern in just the opposite manner from what we do, having the light and picture behind the screen, the same as in our parlor amusement of shadowgraphs. The commonest form of the magic lantern in the extreme orient is a large box supported on a tripod or four legged table. The box is about 4 feet wide by 2 high, and its front is made of ground glass, oiled silk or oiled white paper.

Over the box is a light framework of bamboo and cloth, which reaches to the ground and conceals the operator from the audience, but leaves the glass exposed to view. A powerful lamp in front of a concave reflector throws a strong light upon the glass or screen, as the case may be. The top of the box and the sides are half open to permit the introduction of small figures. This arrangement gives four distinct classes of instruments. With all four instruments the exhibitions are given in the streets, squares and market places. They draw audiences ranging from five to thirty and give an entertainment of from five to fifteen minutes in length. Each spectator is supposed to contribute 1 cash, or a twentieth of a cent, when the hat is passed around. Generous or enthusiastic patrons frequently give from 10 to 15 cash, so that the average performance nets the proprietor about 2 cents. This seems ridiculous to Americans, but in a land where an ablebodied man can be hired for 5 cents a day the owner of a successful magic lantern is looked upon as a very well to do individual.

The little plays which are written about the magic figures are as conventional as our own immortal Punch and Judy. The "wicked tiger" depicts the career of a dissolute animal who from killing pigs, dogs and buffaloes finally eats a beautiful maiden and is slain by a Mongolian chief in full armor on horseback. "The wicked wife" forms a compact with the devil, squanders her husband's substance in riotous living and, in the last scene, hangs herself in a blaze of red fire, while the evil one expresses wild joy in extraordinary oriental gesticulations. "The cruel magician," "the grateful dragon," "the fairy foxes" and other bits of eastern folklore afford brief sketches, which are as familiar as household words.—New York Post.

To Give the Sack.

Two noblemen in the reign of Maximilian II.—1564-1565—one a German, the other a Spaniard, who had each rendered a great service to the emperor, asked the hand of his daughter in marriage. Maximilian said that as he esteemed them both alike it was impossible to choose between them, and therefore their own prowess must decide it; but, being unwilling to risk the loss of either by engaging them in deadly combat, he ordered a large sack to be brought and declared that he who should put his rival into it should have his fair Helena. And this whimsical combat was actually performed in the presence of the imperial court and lasted an hour. The unhappy Spanish nobleman was first overcome, and the German succeeded in enveloping him in the sack, took him upon his back and laid him at the emperor's feet. This comical combat is said to be the origin of the phrase "give him the sack," so common in the literature of courting.

One Phase of the Nile.

In the Shab Luka pass we have one of the many instances in which the Nile has hurled itself at an opposing mountain barrier and cut its way through. In fact, it often seems to select these unpropitious places for its course when on each side a few miles away there is a tolerably level, unbroken expanse of desert. For ten miles the river twists in and out before escaping to the open once more. Its current is very rapid, making it well nigh impassable at low water because of the numerous rocks, but at the time of my descent the summer flood was well along, and all but a few of these barriers were hidden below the surface, their presence being marked only by occasional eddies.—Century.

A Comfort Anyway.

"Speaking of grewsome remarks," said the ruddy old Scotch gentleman on his way from the far west to revisit Scotland for the first time in half a century, "there was an old lady friend of mine in San Francisco who persisted in looking upon this journey of mine as a madly adventurous tempting of Providence. 'Yet there is one thing comforts me, Robert, my man,' she said. 'When one dies in voyaging nowadays they've such excellent facilities for transporting the remains!'"—New York Telegram.

And That Ended Nora.

Mrs. Aufait—Now, Nora, be very careful of this cut glass punch bowl. It cost a mint of money.

Nora—Indade, mum! Well, it's rale tough. Sure an' I dropped it three times a'ready an' niver fazed it.—Life.

His Query.

She—Do I really love you, Cholly? Why, I'd sooner be miserable with you than be any with some other fellow.

He—But are you sure you won't find some other chap that you'd sooner be miserable with?—Puck.

When a woman loves a man to the point of distraction, other women abuse her for not having "more pride."—Chicago Globe.

O'CONNELL'S QUICKNESS.

A Story of the Irish Liberator and a Falling Floor.

Daniel O'Connell was once addressing an enormous meeting in Kingstown, and the crowd was so large that fear was felt for the safety of the building. As he was about to speak a gentleman ascended the platform and said, trembling with fear: "Liberator, the floor is giving way! The beams are cracking, and we shall all fall through in a few minutes." It is not given to many men to live through such moments as O'Connell lived through as he rose to address the meeting nor to preserve such magnificent courage in the face of great peril. Warning the man to keep quiet, the liberator said, "I find this room too small to contain the number who desire to come in, so we must therefore leave it and hold the meeting outside." A few rose to leave, but the hall was still packed, and then O'Connell said: "Then I will tell you the truth. You are Irishmen and therefore brave men. The floor is giving way, and we must leave this room at once. If there is a panic and a rush to the door, we shall all be precipitated into the room below, but if you obey my orders we shall be safe. Let the dozen men nearest the door go quietly out, then the next dozen, and so on until all have gone. I shall be the last to leave." The Irishmen followed the advice, the hall was quickly cleared, and as O'Connell walked across the floor the broken beams gave way.—Oxford Chronicle.

Some British Lawmaking.

It may surprise some folks to learn that plenty of British laws have been drawn up so carelessly and written in such muddled language that they are quite useless for their intended purpose.

One of the acts passed in George III.'s reign, for instance, states that the proceeds of penalties were to be given half to the informer and half to the poor of the parish. The absurdity lies in the fact that the only penalty which could be inflicted was one of transportation for fourteen years.

In 1805 a well known Q. C. created a lot of amusement by proposing an amendment worded as follows: "Every dog found trespassing on a inclosed land unaccompanied by the registered owner of such dog or other person, who shall on being asked for his true name and address may be then and there destroyed by such occupier or by his orders." This gem of mirthlessness was, however, not passed.—London Tit-Bits.

Ebony, the Wood of Kings.

While many of the hard woods in use at the present day are of comparatively recent introduction, ebony was known and highly esteemed by a number of ancient races and used by them for kingly and other purposes. While the name ebony is given to the wood of several varieties of trees, all kinds are of great density and dark color, the heaviest varieties being, as a rule, also the darkest. There are three varieties of ebony well known in the trade. The ebony from the Gaboon coast of Africa is the darkest. The Madagascar ebony is the densest. The Macassar ebony furnishes the largest pieces. London is still the chief mart for this wood, and from there it is shipped to the various countries in which it is used for manufacturing purposes.—Popular Mechanics.

What She Was Meant For.

A lady of great beauty and attractiveness who was an ardent admirer of Ireland once crowned her praise of it at a party by saying:

"I think I was meant for an Irishwoman."

"Madam," rejoined a witty son of Erin who happened to be present, "thousands would back me in saying that you were meant for an Irishman."

The Railroads and The Sonoma Valley.

The rumored sale of the California Northwestern Railway, first to the Santa Fe and subsequently to the Southern Pacific Company, has caused much speculation in this valley in general and something akin to disquietude among the residents of Sonoma and El Verano in particular. This is but natural, as it is safe to assume that should the Southern Pacific absorb the California Northwestern that Mr. Harriman and his associates would not maintain and operate two railway lines that parallel each other from fifty yards to a couple of miles apart for a distance of twelve or fifteen miles. This being so, with both roads under one management either Sonoma or El Verano would be taken off the railroad map. Anyhow, that is the way our people are reasoning out the situation in this valley in the event of this rumored railroad deal being authenticated.

But supposing the California Northwestern has been or will be sold to the Southern Pacific does it not stand to reason that its rival, the Santa Fe, will eventually run through the Sonoma Valley and compete with it for its freight and passenger traffic as it is now doing through the southern tier of counties of the State?

The fact of the matter is, no one in the Sonoma Valley has anything to fear from the present activity in railway circles. On the contrary, they have every reason to congratulate themselves that the long wished-for transcontinental railway line through Sonoma, Mendocino and Humboldt counties is now an assured fact in so far as one of the great railroad systems of the United States is concerned. We refer to the Santa Fe, which will be heading this way from Eureka early this spring. Mayhap we may have two transcontinental lines, for the Southern Pacific also has it eyes on a northern route to the East.

The Santa Fe, as is well-known, has lately became the owner of the Eel River & Eureka railroad and the California & Northern in Humboldt county, and its Vice-President, Capt A. H. Payson, is authority for the statement that his company will extend those roads from Humboldt county to tide water in one direction and an eastern connection in another. Vice-President Payson was in Eureka last week in the interest of the Santa Fe, and of course was interviewed by the newspaper men of that city. In answer to the question if he had anything to give out for publication, he expressed himself to a scribe of the Standard as follows:

"What is to be said is very simple and can be easily disposed of. The Santa Fe will build the connecting link between Eureka and San Francisco. The road to the county line will no doubt be completed this season. The materials are ordered and the work will begin immediately. What will be done after we get to the county line I do not know."

Mr. Payson was further questioned if had read the story published in the San Francisco papers regarding the alleged transfer of the California Northwestern to the Santa Fe and he answered as follows:

"There is absolutely no truth in that story. If the sale had been made I would have known it. The Santa Fe does not own or control the California Northwestern so far as I know, nor is there at present any negotiations looking toward its purchase by our company. The natural way for us to get to San Francisco is by way of the California Northwestern route, but no one knows just what will be done when we get the gap closed. Whether we will get the control of the other road or whether we will parallel it, or whether we will take some other method of closing the gap, is not now known."

Speaking of the belief of some people that the North Shore road might prove as the connecting link, Mr. Payson is quoted as saying:

"The North Shore does not figure in this matter in any way. The route is not a practical one, for that road has now come as far north along the coast as is possible. To come further this way it would be necessary to build by way of Russian river and thus parallel the California Northwestern road for a number of miles. I do not consider the North Shore proposition as a practical one in any sense."

OUR laws should reach out to the encouragement of the small farm and the small orchard. We must get people on the farms, for it is to a rural population that this country must look for its preservation. We may talk about "hayseeds" and the stupidity of the "clodhopper" all we have a mind to, but it is nevertheless a fixed fact that this same class make the right arm of this Government. No city of a quarter of a million of inhabitants is capable of self-government and must have the aid of these same "clodhoppers." In the city every element is pulling for itself, but the man who owns his own vine and fig tree feels an interest in the country—feels that he is bound to look to the good of the whole. He does not always do this with the wisdom of a great statesman, but it is nearly always with honest intent; and out of the honest intentions of the people we get at the instincts of the people, and these are almost invariably right. The great city voices no instinct. The crowd that gets uppermost rules though "the deluge" were coming; tomorrow.—Colusa Sun.

Young Plants

Every farmer knows that some plants grow better than others. Soil may be the same and seed may seem the same but some plants are weak and others strong.

And that's the way with children. They are like young plants. Same food, same home, same care but some grow big and strong while others stay small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion offers an easy way out of the difficulty. Child weakness often means starvation, not because of lack of food, but because the food does not feed.

Scott's Emulsion really feeds and gives the child growing strength.

Whatever the cause of weakness and failure to grow—Scott's Emulsion seems to find it and set the matter right.

SHAMEFUL NEGLECT OF A BRUTAL FATHER.

Ragged and Unkept Urchin Arouses the Smpathetic Feelings of a Judge.

A pathetic scene was witnessed in Judge Burnett's department of the Superior Court on Saturday morning. A little pale-faced, twelve-year old lad, ragged, with an apology for coat, vest and trousers hardly recognizable as such garments, his little chest half bare through what had once been a shirt, barefoot, and his old make up evidencing shameful neglect—stood at the bar, charged with burglary.

The boy was Joseph Silva, son of a farmer living near Sebastopol. The information filed against him was that he had entered the Philbrook residence out Sebastopol way, and had taken some articles, two or three old razors and some clothing. He was accompanied on this mission by two other boys, and when the theft was detected the little fellow shouldered all the blame and shielded another boy.

Moved by the woe-begone spectacle the child presented, Judge Burnett instructed the officer in charge of the prisoner to get him a complete outfit of clothing forthwith. His plea was set down for entry for Monday. Attorney J. Rollo Leppo consented to act as the child's attorney.

It was a shocking tale the lad had to tell of neglect. From what the neighbors say he and his motherless brothers and sisters have to largely shift for themselves. The father has little or nothing to do with them and apparently cares nothing for them. District Attorney Pond was told considerable while at Sebastopol investigating the case which tended to support the stories of the heartless treatment given the children by the father. The boy himself stated that he had to sleep on different occasions with the hogs and under the house. He did not, however, complain of his father's treatment to the District Attorney.

Everybody around the Courthouse felt very sorry for the child defendant on Saturday. An effort will be made to get him a home somewhere. Such a child cannot be sent to the penitentiary. He may be sent to the Preston School of Industry.—Press Democrat.

Danger of Colds and Grip.

The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. HON. E. E. WILLARD.

Judge of District Court Plainly Speaks His Mind.

It is with pleasure that I give my hearty endorsement to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the most successful remedy that I know of for the weakened condition of the digestive organs which excessive heat or overwork sometimes brings, causing indigestion, sick headache, a disagreeable or bitter taste in the mouth, sleepless nights and a complication of unnatural conditions, making one feel sick all over. Your remedy is scientifically prepared and well calculated to renovate the entire system, cleansing and vitalizing the blood and assisting the stomach to perfect assimilation of the food, which will soon restore health and harmony.

Sincerely yours,

E. E. Willard

Judge of 11th District, Duval County, Florida.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" restores the long lost appetite; it strengthens the weak stomach and corrects the impaired digestion; it promotes the flow of digestive juices and facilitates the assimilation of the life-giving elements of the food into the blood. When the blood is pure and rich, old inert tissues are torn down, carried off and excreted, and new, healthy-muscular tissues replace them. In this way it puts on healthy flesh up to the normal weight and fortifies one against all disease-breeding germs. It allays inflammation of the mucous m... soothes the cough, facilitates expector... and deepens the breathing, supplying ... system with a much needed stock of oxyge... It drives out all impurities and disease germ...

$3,000 Forfeit!

Will be cheerfully paid, in lawful money of the United States, by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, if they cannot show the original statement and signature of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing attesting the superior curative properties of their several medicines, and thus proving the genuineness and reliability of all the multitude of testimonials volunteered by grateful people, in their behalf.

"I feel it my duty to write you as I have received so much benefit from the use of your medicines," says Mrs. E. Sando, of Elon, Iowa. "I was troubled with torpid liver, indigestion, and nervous prostration, for about eighteeen months and lost strength so that I was unable to do any work. Consulted several doctors but without receiving help. They advised me to have an operation for gall stone, which I thought would be the very last step I would take. I then sat down and wrote to you for advice, some five or six months ago, and have since been taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Can now say that I am well and able to do all my work, besides doing lots of weaving. In the last two months I have woven about four hundred yards of carpet and feel now that I will keep on with it as I like the weaving business so well. I took only eight bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

"I will be glad if I can say anything to those who are suffering as I did."

"I was taken sick nine years ago with fever." writes Mr. M. M. Wardwell, of Linwood, Leavenworth Co., Kans. "Had the doctor and he broke up the fever all right, but I took diarrhea right away; he couldn't cure it and it became chronic, and then he gave up the case. I got so weak with it and had piles so badly I couldn't lie down, nor hardly sit up. Was that way two or three months; thought I would 'never be well again,' but picked up one of Dr. Pierce's Memorandum Books one day and saw your description of catarrh of the stomach. I thought it hit my case. We had a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the house that was got for mother. You recommend it for catarrh of the stomach, so I began taking it. The one bottle nearly cured me. I got two bottles next time and took one and one-half and was well. I haven't been bothered with diarrhea since."

A FEW PENNIES will pay the expense of mailing Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume.

Address: Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE WEATHER AND THE CROP OUTLOOK

Climatological Data for March.

Robert Hall, U. S. Signal Service Observer for this valley, furnishes us the following climatological data for the month of March:

Maximum temperature, 72 degrees. Date, 23d.
Minimum temperature, 35 degrees. Date, 5th.
Precipitation for the month, 5.49 inches.
Greatest precipitation in twenty-four hours, 1.45 inches.
Number of rainy days, 11.
Clear days, 4.
Partly cloudy days, 6.
Prevailing direction of wind, S. S. E.
Rainfall for the storm ending March 31st, 2.57 inches.
Total rainfall for the season, 25.31 inches.
Same time last year, 26.51 inches.

The warm weather and bountiful rains during the past week were beneficial to grain and grass, which made rapid growth. Green feed is abundant and stock in good condition. Cherries, pears, plums and peaches are in bloom and give promise of large crops. Apricots of the Blenheim variety were injured by rain during the blossom. Royal appear to be setting full. Vineyards are in excellent condition. Plowing has been suspended owing to the recent rains. The outlook for a favorable season were never better at this time of year.

The summer visitors have commenced to arrive at the various resorts in this place and vicinity. If Sonoma's street lights are turned on by the City Trustees during the evenings of the spring, summer and fall months it will mean many dollars spent among our business men by those visitors, who will be attracted to a well-lighted town just as the moth is attracted to a lighted candle or lamp.

All the trout streams in Sonoma Valley, some eighteen or twenty in number, have been booming since the late rains. Those that tried their luck on the opening day of the trout season report plenty of water in the streams, too much for good fishing. A few good catches were made in some of the streams but for the most part all were too muddy for even fair fishing. In another week, should there be no more rain in the interval, there ought to be great sport for the fishermen.

DANIEL BURRIS IS NO MORE.

Expired in Santa Rosa Wednesday Night.

Daniel D. Burris, son of Mrs. Wm. Burris and the late Wm. Burris, is dead. He passed away in a sanitarium in Santa Rosa last Wednesday night in the presence of his relatives after a long illness. His complaint was stomach and bowel troubles.

The deceased left Sonoma several months ago for Santa Rosa for medical treatment, and his death was not entirely unexpected.

Mr. Burris was born on the Burris ranch near this place on April 30, 1855, being within a few weeks of 48 years of age when he passed away. Here it was that he spent his boyhood and young manhood days and made many friends.

Besides an aged mother he leaves two brothers, Jesse Burris, Cashier of the Sonoma Valley Bank, and Luther W. Burris, Cashier of the Santa Rosa Bank. David Burris, the banker, and D. D. Davisson of Santa Rosa, are uncles of the deceased. Frank Burris, Assistant Cashier of the Santa Rosa Bank, is a cousin.

The remains were shipped to El Verano over the Southern Pacific railroad Friday, the funeral taking place immediately after the arrival of the afternoon train.

The interment was in the family burial plot in Mountain Cemetery.

COUNTY PHYSICIAN SHEARER INDICTED.

Did Not Dispose of the "Pay Patient Fund" to Suit the Grand Jury.

The indictment of County Physician Shearer by the Grand Jury last Monday was received with surprise here on account of his social standing and prominence as a physician. The indictment, like that returned against ex-District Attorney Webber, is not looked upon seriously by many, as both are leading citizens of Santa Rosa.

Dr. Shearer was interviewed by a Press Democrat reporter in regard to the indictment. The doctor stated that he had nothing to fear.

In his handling of the "Pay Patient Fund," he said he had simply followed out the precedent and example set by his predecessors in office, Drs. Smith, Young, Boyce and Gordon, men whose integrity no one would question, and which while perhaps unauthorized by the strict letter of the law was justified and legitimate. Receipts and vouchers, he claimed, are on file showing how and where the money had been expended. Patients likely to become permanent charges upon the county, he said, had in many instances been sent to relatives and friends in other parts of the State, as well as in the east, the money having been expended in sending infants to foundling hospitals, and in other ways discharging necessary and reasonable obligations upon the part of the county but for which no direct provision is made by law.

Big Trees of California.

E. O. McCormick, General Traffic Manager of the Southern Pacific Company, has placed us under obligations for a copy of "Big Trees of California," a handsomely illustrated phamplet, just issued by that company. The principal giants of the Mariposa, Calaveras and Tuolumne groves are strikingly depicted in the pictures, and instantly convey to the eye the immensity of these monarchs of the forest.

"Vacation."

The California Northwestern railway has just issued from the press "Vacation 1903". It is a neat and handsomely illustrated booklet, which will prove of great interest to the dwellers of the metropolis who contemplate spending the summer months in the country.

Herbert Hoag of the Pioneer Saloon attended to business in San Francisco one day this week.

Mrs. E. C. Bonbright has returned home after a pleasant visit of several weeks with friends in San Francisco.

John A. Waggoner, an extensive dairyman and rancher of Thorpe, Washington, is visiting at the Bonbright ranch.

Mrs. Raymond of San Francisco is visiting her mother, Mrs. Behler, who is seriously ill with the grip. Dr. Crepin is attending her.

Dr. C. C. O'Donnell and wife visited their "Cozy Castle" home this week. They are making extensive preparations for the coming season, expecting bigger crowds of visitors at their Glen Ellen resort than ever before. As a summer abiding place this town and vicinity is unsurpassed and is increasing in popularity every year. To those that long for the peaceful joys of Arcadia this is the place to come.

Our little burg was honored this week by the visit of four priests, men upon whom the grace of a perfect life seems to have fallen like royal robes, investing even their outward appearance with spiritual authority and grandeur—Father Lagan of the Holy Cross, San Francisco, Father Byrnes of Nevada and Father Byrnes, editor of The Monitor, San Francisco. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wegner. The reverened gentlemen are delighted with our charming valley and are making arrangements to bring up a large picnic party some time during the month of May. No more beautiful place could be selected for the purpose.

Can anything be more entrancing than our valley? The bright carpet of soft green, reaching from hill to hill and stretching for miles until it meets the ocean; fruit trees laden with sweet, fragrant blossoms filling the air with perfume; lovely birds singing joyously, happy in building homes in which to rear their young; sportive brooks, bubbling over with laughter and song, making merry as they leap over rocks, forming pools and cascades, bounding and singing as they go through fields of grain, vineyards and orchards, leaving a blessing to each in the promise of a bountiful harvest.

The Dunbar Improvement Club held its monthly session at Kenwood last Saturday. The Glen Ellenites were too full of their own affairs to be there. Dr. O'Donnell put in rather a tardy appearance, but got there just the same. A. Froment, President of the Club, called the meeting to order. The principal topic under discussion was, as formerly, the Rural Delivery. The Kenwood people do not take kindly to it at all. Thos. Johnson made a very able and eloquent speech in its favor, followed by General Wagner, who spoke in his usual clear and forcible manner and explained the many benefits derived from the service and the encouragement it would give to people to settle here with the improved facillities of having their mail delivered at their homes.

There seems to be considerable feeling about cutting down a large oak tree that stands in the middle of the road at Warfield. A few think it necessary to have it cut down in order to have the road properly graded. But the majority stand staunch for this grand old monarch of the forest, that, like an old sentinal, has stood guard so many years, giving cool and refreshing shade to the weary traveler—holding out glad arms of welcome to all. How like a dear old friend it seems to the wanderer after many years of absence to find this noble old tree awaiting his coming. For many years it has stood firm, strong and undaunted, and we trust for years to come it will greet our eye and warm our hearts by its stately, dignified majestic beauty.

BRANDS OF CHEESE.

Gorgonzola Is a Cheese to Swear by, Limburger to Swear At.

Each country has its favorite cheese. The Swiss make the Gruyere cheese, known more generally in this country as Schweitzerkase. It is made of goats' milk and is full of holes caused by the gases in fermentation. The cheese is imitated, but never equaled, here. The typical English cheese is the Cheddar, first made in the English town after which it is named. It is very like American cream cheese. Cheshire is another favorite English cheese, while the fashionable cheese of the day is Stilton, a cheese which defies imitation. Sage cheese, first made in England, is now made the world over. Its distinguishing characteristic is the flavoring and coloring of sage, parsley, spinach and marigold leaves bruised and steeped.

Brie is a popular French soft cheese, and Camembert, originating in Normandy, is another. These cheeses are cured in caves where the temperature never rises above 12 to 14 degrees. They are ready for marketing in May and November. Roquefort, a celebrated French cheese, is made from the milk of goats and sheep that browse on the thyme clad banks of the Arno, in western France. These cheeses are also ripened in caves, but the temperature is kept at 40 degrees.

Akin to the Roquefort, cheese is that called Gorgonzola, made in Italy by a similar process. It is milder than Roquefort and not quite so good, but is sold much cheaper. Another Italian cheese, the Parmesan, is very hard and is usually grated. It is a favorite dish with macaroni. Another curious Italian cheese is the Caccicavallo, a pear shaped cheese, which is delicious, and improves with age. It is cured in the smoke used in making sausages and comes in curious, sausagelike shapes.

Limburger cheese, so beloved by the Germans, originated in Belgium. It is extraordinarily rich, being allowed to ripen to putrefaction; hence its horrifying odors in unaccustomed nostrils. Some persons have a saying, "Gorgonzola is a cheese to swear by, Limburger to swear at." From Holland came the Edam and the pineapple, both made in cleanly manner and very popular. It is written in history that the Dutch used their round, crimson ball like Edam cheeses to shoot out of their cannon when the Swedes were battering Amsterdam.—Philadelphia North American.

The Roots of Trees.

The roots of a tree do not cover the same area beneath the earth as they do above. A gardener of many years' experience, having had a vast deal to do in digging and transplanting trees, says he has found that the roots of trees cover on an average about two-thirds of the area of its branches. The tree which has the largest area under ground is the weeping willow. This tree's roots spread to such an extent that should there be any trees or shrubs planted within thirty feet of them in a few years the roots of the willow will be found intermingled with them. Fruit trees, such as apples, pears and plums, have very small roots in comparison with their size. The roots of currant bushes do not occupy more than a quarter the space their branches cover.

Criticism That Hurts and Frets.

To bring about same friendship between people who love each other respect for each other's individuality is of course necessary. We can vow that unless duty seriously and lovingly demands it there should be no unasked criticism between people who love each other. Think how it would make for peace if domestic criticism were forbidden at every breakfast table! Think of our own happiness if our brothers and sisters will stop telling us unpleasant truths! Think of their happiness if we could refrain from enlightening them as to their dress or manners or beliefs!—Margaret Deland in Harper's Bazar.

An Appropriate Quotation.

Dr. Temple's hatred of verbosity was intense. On one occasion his chaplain was surprised to receive a telegram from the archbishop consisting of only the words, "Third John, 13 and 14." Mystified, the chaplain turned up his Bible and read: "I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee. But I trust I shall shortly see thee and we shall speak face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet thy friends by name."

Generous.

"If I could only get a bite to eat," he whined.

"Why don't you work?" she asked.

"Nothin' doin' in my line," he answered. "I'm a dime museum glass eater, an' they're gettin' too common."

"Poor man!" she said sympathetically. "Come right in, and you can have the two goblets and the glass dish the girl broke this morning."—Chicago Post.

A Forcible Indictment.

Little Nell—I don't like my papa one bit. He's awful selfish.

Mamma—He is?

Little Nell—Yes'm. He nearly sat down on my dolly, an' then, 'stead of takin' another chair, he took her chair right away from her an' left her on th' hard floor.

About Ghosts.

He—D'you know, if I were ever to see a ghost, don't you know, I believe I should be a hopeless idiot for the rest of my life!

She (absently)—Have you ever seen a ghost?—London King.

The average person wastes lots of time telling other people things they do not care to hear.

A word from a friend is doubly enjoyable in dark days.

SIX BY ATTACK OF GRIP

Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

"When I had an attack of the la-grip last winter (the second one) I speedily cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. At times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never used it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it to not only be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr Grip had bid me adieu." DEAFNESS CURED

Louisville Man Originates a Simple Little Device that Instantly Restores the Hearing --- Fits Perfectly, Comfortably and Does Not Show.

190-page Book Free---Tells all About It.

Since the discovery Louisvilleo f a man it is no longer necessary for any deaf person to carry a trumpet, a tube or any such old-fashioned device, for it is now possible for any one to hear perfectly by a simple invention that fits in the ear and cannot be detected. The honor belongs to Mr. Geo. H. Wilson of Louisville, who was himself deaf, and now hears as well as any one. He calls it Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drum, is built on the strictest scientific principles, containing no metal of any kind, and is entirely new in very respect. It is so small that no one can see it, but nevertheless it collects all sound waves and diverts them against the drum he d, causing you to hear perfectly. It will do this even when the natural ear drums are partially or entirely destroyed, perforated, scarred, relaxed or thickened. It fits any ear from childhood to old age, and aside from the fact that it does not show, it never causes the hearer irritation, and can be used with comfort day or night.

It will cure deafness in any person no matter how acquired, whether from catarrh, scarlet fever, typho d or brain fever, measles, whooping cough, gathering in the ear, shocks from artillery or through accidents. It not only cures but stays the progress of deafness and all roaring and buzzing noises. It does this in a simple, sure and scientific way. The effect is immediate.

Let every person who needs this, at once send to the company for its 190-page book, which you can have free. It describes and illustrates Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drums and contains many bona fide letters from numerous users in the United States, Canada, Mexico, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, India. These letters are from people in every station of life, clergymen, physicians, lawyers, mercnants, society ladies, etc., and tell the truth about the benefits to be derived from the use of this wonderful little device. You will find among them the names of people in your own town or State, and you are at liberty to write to any of them you wish and secure their opinion as to the merits of the only scientific ear drums for restoring the hearing to its normal condition.

Write to-day and it will not be long before you are ag in hearing. Add ess, for t e free book and convincing evidence, Wilson Ear Drum Co., Todd Building, Louisville, Ky., U. S. N.
